Track Academy Indoor Sprint Challenge: Saturday 20th December 2014

Press Release

Indoor athletics action returns to Willesden Sports Centre for a pre-Christmas curtain raiser to the 2015 indoor season. Track Academy are once again hosting an open-graded event which is set to attract the region's elite at the same time as providing an ideal opportunity for newcomers to experience competitive racing for the first time.

As usual online entries have been flooding in since the pre-entry link was released at the start of November and with it, the expected wide range of abilities and experience from across the region eagerly anticipating the first sprint action of the new season.

Free for all spectators, Brent's local population will be treated to fireworks from the first heat to the last with displays of blistering speed guaranteed to reset the current track records. Will this be the year Olympian Laura Turner's women's track best of 7.62s goes? On the men's side it's a question of "who?" and "how much"? the record of 6.85s will be beaten by.

Track Academy Indoor Sprint Challenge is totally open to all abilities and experiences including disabilities which will be catered for.

Home Favourite. Track Academy's Confidence Lawson will have the track record in sight
